

PRIVACY POLICIES AND CONDITION OF USE

This statement discloses the privacy policies and condition of use for the entire United Relief Foundation ("UnitedReliefFoundation.com" and "UnitedReliefFoundation.org") websites. This Privacy Statement outlines the information United Relief Foundation may collect and how we may use that information.

United Relief Foundation may capture implicit information from users who visit our website for aggregate statistical analysis and site customization. United Relief Foundation may review trends based on information as a whole, but does not do so in an effort to identify the individual identity of the visitor to its site.

We also may solicit email for site feedback, business development, press inquiries, or human resources inquiries. United Relief Foundation will not share information solicited from our website with a third party without the express consent of the individual.

United Relief Foundation will not collect any personally identifiable information about you (e.g., your name, address, telephone number, or email address) through our website unless you have provided it to us voluntarily. If you do not want your personal data collected, please do not submit it to us.

IP addresses may be logged to track a user's session. United Relief Foundation may also use cookies in order to assist in aggregate statistical analysis and sometimes provide site customization based on anonymous session tracking.

We also may count, track, and aggregate the visitor's activity into our analysis of general traffic flows at our sites. When and if United Relief Foundation does present aggregated information to outside companies, no one would be able to identify you or contact you.

By submitting messages and/or materials to our website, each user agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless United Relief Foundation from all damages, costs, and expenses. These fees would include reasonable attorney's fees and costs arising out of all claims, challenges, or actions related to the User's submission, including, without limitation, claims for infringement of intellectual property rights, libel, and defamation related to the User's submission.

Thank you for visiting our site. If you have questions about this policy or about any part of this site, our legal advisor Richard Valentino (The Valentino Law) may be reached by telephone at (847) 577-8674.
